A FROSH START

Freshman forward Lazar Trifunovic (Belgrade, Serbia) made a strong collegiate debut pulling down a game-high 12 rebounds in 23 minutes of action before fouling out late in the contest. His total sets both a new freshman single-game record, breaking the old mark set by Nick Billings (10 vs. Northeastern 1/12/02) and trumps former player Jordan Fithian (10 vs. Michigan, 11/15/04) for most rebounds by any Bearcat in a career debut.

ACTION JACKSON

Sophomore guard Dwayne Jackson (Akron, Ohio) played a career-high 16 minutes against LIU and made the most of his time, sinking 3-of-7 field-goal attempts for a career-high seven points off the BU bench.

DOUBLE FIGURES

Senior guard Troy Hailey (Hyattsville, Md.) tied for the team-high with 11 points in Saturday's opener, registering double-figures in points for the 40th time in his four-year career. The team's lone senior, Hailey reached double-figures 12 times last season.

FORBES RETURNS HOME IN BU DEBUT

Playing in front of a large contingent of family and friends, junior guard and New York City native Richard Forbes (Far Rockaway, N.Y.) scored nine points - all in the second half - and added four steals over 22 minutes of action in his BU debut.

GORDON CLIMBING UP THE CHARTS

Needing just six points entering Saturday's contest, junior Mike Gordon (Plainfield, N.J.) moved into 9th all-time on BU's DI scoring list, adding 11 against LIU for a total of 340.

TAKING CHARGE

From game to game, there are some obvious individual measures that do not reside in the final box score. One such area is drawn charges. Below is a look at which BU players have drawn the most offensive fouls from their opponents throughout the season. As a team, BU drew 52 charges last season.

Head Coach Al Walker

Heading into his seventh year at the helm of Binghamton's most visible sports team, Al Walker has quickly shaped his basketball program into a conference-contender while also shaping his student-athletes into community role models and well-rounded young men.

A passionate coach entering his 19th year overall, Walker has quickly transformed the Bearcats into one of the sturdiest programs in the America East Conference. Thanks primarily to defensive intensity — the trademark of Walker-led teams — the Bearcats have met or surpassed pre-season expectations every year in the America East.

In each of the past two seasons, BU has advanced to the conference semifinals, and last season's squad went 12-4 to earn regular season runner-up honors.

Walker's commitment to recruiting talented individuals with solid character and citizenship has drawn the support of the campus and Greater Binghamton community, which have come out in record numbers to watch the Bearcats.

"It's so important that our guys are good people, work hard and recognize how special this opportunity is at Binghamton," Walker said. "We have a chance to bring pride and joy to our community."

Back in 2000 when the University hired Walker to steer its men's basketball team into the rough waters of Division I, the school was banking on Walker's reputation for building programs from the ground up. At the same time, the administration hoped the divisional move would enhance the University's national reputation.

Thanks to aggressive recruiting and an even more aggressive team defense, Walker has made quick work of those goals.

Another constant in Walker's program has been the tradition of scheduling high-caliber opponents. In his first five years, Walker has brought BU into battle against such nationally prominent programs as Syracuse, Kansas, North Carolina, Oklahoma, Michigan, Iowa State, Providence and Villanova. His team's performance against the Tar Heels in Chapel Hill on December 16, 2001, resulted in a flurry of national praise. Four days after UNC had to rally for a 61-60 win, Walker's photo graced the pages of USA Today above the headline "Binghamton makes its name."

Walker believes in rewarding his out-of-state players with a high-profile game back home, and thus has brought his team up against teams from the Big East, Big 12 and ACC in recent years. This season is no exception, as the Bearcats will travel to Albuquerque to play an in-season tournament in New Mexico's famous arena, "The Pit." A December game against ACC member University of Miami also dots the schedule.

Walker was introduced at a press conference on March 16, 2000. A unanimous selection among the University's advisory committee, Walker became the 10th coach in Binghamton's 55 years of basketball — and the first with Division I coaching experience.

"Al Walker had the breadth of experience we were looking for," said Joel Thirer, director of health, physical education and athletics. "He has coached at the Division

I level, and has recruited and taught student-athletes that fit our University's elite academic profile. Al is well respected across the country, and we are confident he will build our program the same way he has done in the past."

A native of Queens, Walker lives in Vestal with his wife, Chris, and their two daughters, Jordyn (15) and Shannan (14).

BUILDING A WINNER

Under the direction of veteran head coach Al Walker, the Binghamton University men's basketball program is embarking on a meteoric rise in the ranks of Division I basketball in the America East Conference. All eyes have quickly been drawn to the Bearcats, who have met or surpassed preseason expectations five straight years. In 2005-06, BU went 12-4 in league play and finished runnerup in the nine-team league. Once again, the Bearcats are poised to challenge for the conference championship in 2006-07. With aggressive marketing, administrative support and a fan base that is unmatched in the America East Conference, Binghamton has quickly emerged as the program of the future.

PLAYING IN A PALACE

From the inaugural game at the Events Center in January 2004 to the highly-successful 2005 and 2006 America East Championships, fans have flocked to the state-of-the-art basketball arena to cheer on the Bearcats. Binghamton has led the entire conference in home attendance in each of the last three seasons. In addition, a boisterous standing-room-only student section has maximized BU's home court advantage.

MAXIMUM EXPOSURE

The Bearcats have already gained regional and national exposure - thanks to marquee players, strong scheduling and broadcast exposure. Binghamton has increased its national profile with an appearance in the pre-season NIT and recent games against NCAA powers Syracuse, Kansas, Villanova, North Carolina and Oklahoma. The Bearcats will travel across the country to face elite programs again in 2005-06. A holiday tournament at "The Pit" in New Mexico and a December matchup with ACC member University of Miami highlight the non-conference schedule.

Binghamton has been equally aggressive in the media market, where the school secured a conference-best three home televised games in 2005-06, in addition to offering all 29 home and away games on live radio that was streamed on the internet.

100% EFFORT

Under seventh-year head coach Al Walker, the Bearcats have been defined by their 40-minute intensity and defensive prowess. In 2005-06, BU led the conference in forcing turnovers and held America East opponents to a paltry 56.6 points per game — tops in the league. The Bearcats also ranked 15th in the nation in fewest turnovers. Fans have come to appreciate both the work ethic of the players and the passion of the coaching staff.

ROLE MODELS

Binghamton basketball coaches and players reach out to the community throughout the year. The team hosts free clinics, visits community schools and makes young children an integral part of every game night. Through their athletic and academic achievement, sportsmanship and community service, the Bearcats are positive role models for kids of all ages.

THE PLACE TO BE

With three starters and eight letterwinners back, a highly-touted recruiting class on its way, an electric atmosphere at the jammed Events Center, and a winning mentality in place, clearly the best is yet to come in 2006-07.
